

Educate. Inform. Uplift.

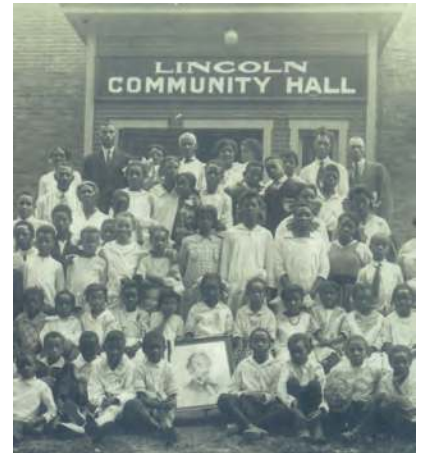

Our History

Nestled near historic Downtown Troy, the Lincoln Community Center has reached thousands of Trojans as a gathering place for community-minded people to learn, exercise and grow together.

Our roots date back to 1865 when we served as a one room schoolhouse for African-Americans in the city of Troy. Since becoming an incorporated organization in 1938, the LCC has truly served the Troy community through a variety of activities, classes, services and events.

Over the years, the Lincoln Community Center has seen immense change, growth and revitalization. Our Center remains a vital part of Troy's multicultural past, present and future—we reflect on our past with pride, cherish the present activities and optimistically anticipate our future. In the words of current Director Shane Carter, "Without the Lincoln Community Center, where would everyone go?"

Our Mission

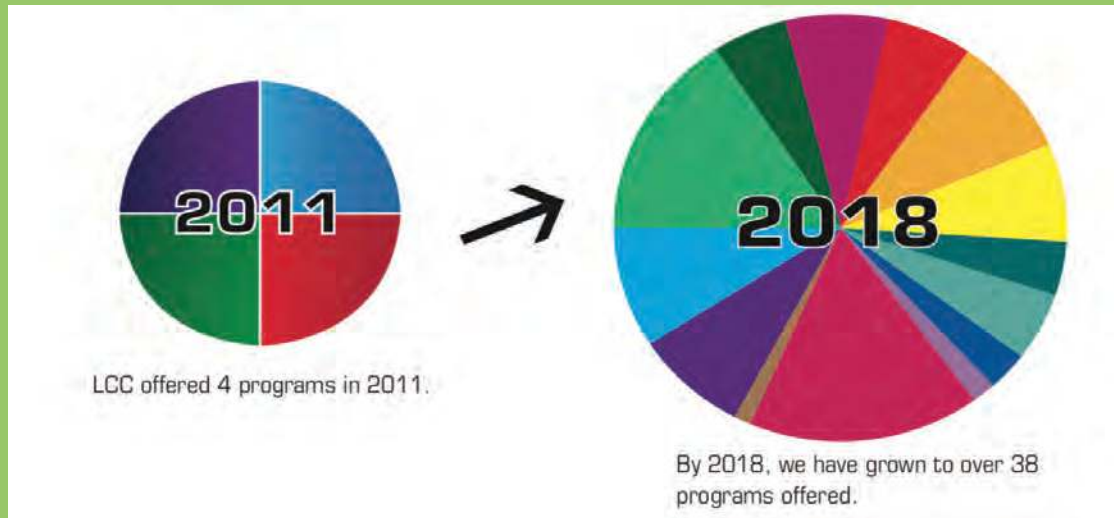

Our mission is to provide a safe gathering place with educational, recreational and mentoring opportunities for all ethnicities and age groups in the Troy community.

In collaboration with Troy City Schools, we continue to offer tutoring and educational resources for our children, which are vital to both our youth and the success of Lincoln Community Center patrons. The legacy of the Lincoln Community Center holds strong, as we currently offer over 60 programs ranging from youth basketball to senior citizen water aerobics. We also offer programs to cultivate many life skills such as job readiness, a healthy lifestyle, pursuing education & stewardship.

"From the after school program that mentors and assists young students to the pool membership that brings senior citizens together affordably, the LCC addresses the needs of every age in the community."

- Melissa Kleptz, Executive Director, The Troy Foundation

Our Growth

"Over the years, the Lincoln Community Center has provided services and programs that have improved the quality of life for Troy citizens of all ages."

- Richard Bender, Chief Financial Officer, United Way of Miami County

2018 was one of Lincoln Community Center's most successful years to date, and our momentum forges ahead every day. We attribute this success to collaboration and understanding our community's needs. Our daily programming illustrates how important our exposure in the community is to our continued growth. We strive to provide community events and support initiatives that speak to our core values.

Our Vision

"Under the leadership of Executive Director Shane Carter, the LCC is truly a community center. It's one of Troy's treasures!"

- Michael Beamish, Mayor of Troy

Total Estimated Project Cost: $5.5 Million

Our 17,000 square-foot building is bursting at the seams. The LCC has acquired property adjacent to our current location, where we plan to modernize and enhance our facilities to better serve the people of Troy.

Current Building

- Everyday, our programming and events result in exceeded maximum occupancy in all rooms.
- Built in 1938, our restrooms and other facilities are not ADA compliant or handicap accessible.
- Space limitations inhibit us from growing our staff & holding more community-driven events.
- Our current parking area does not provide adequate parking facilities for our staff and patrons.

New Building

- The 27,800 sq ft building more than doubles the current building's square footage.
- The restrooms, classrooms and public spaces will meet all handicap and ADA regulations.
- Increased space allows offices for staff members, as well as adequate storage and utility closets.
- Our new site plan allows for vastly increased parking spaces and handicap spots.

Site Plan

The new building will encourage continued community involvement by providing ADA compliant facilities and expanded parking areas as well as modern spaces for programming, services and events. With your support, we can make sure the LCC's facilities are as top-notch as our patrons, programs and community.
